'Bye Bye - Zanu-PF Bye Bye'

By Citizens Daily Bulletin
Correspondent

President Nelson Chamisa's campaign offensive took him deep into the rural areas of Masvingo yesterday, where he told supporters of the Citizens Coalition For Change that the time for change has indeed arrived.

The President charmed the party faithful when he said that it was time to say "Bye Bye Zanu-PF Bye Bye."

In Chilonga, President Nelson Chamisa engaged with communities and village representatives as we approach the crucial election.

We are actively mobilising citizens in every village of Masvingo province, paving the way for positive change. We are building a New Great Zimbabwe that benefits and uplifts EVERYONE.

Zanu PF is panicking. Our impact is universal. President Chamisa's twitter feeds showed him meeting happy supporters in Chilonga, Chikomedzi and Chiredzi Rural. "My message is simple," the President said. "There can be no true independence for everyone without land ownership rights, title deeds and development. People of Chilonga need their land. The underdevelopment here is extreme. "We will fix this. A New Great Zimbabwe loading. Land and title deeds," President Chamisa said.

Why Chiredzi Police Fired Teargas To Block CCC Rally At Tshovani Stadium

By Wezhira Munya

Today, all roads lead to Zaka [Jerera] and Bikita South, where President Nelson Chamisa is expected to address two mega rallies.

Both rallies have been authorized by the police.

Yesterday President Chamisa

addressed thousands of citizens at Jerera Growth Point in Zaka.

Later yesterday President Chamisa was in Bikita South at Baradzanwa Business Centre in the remote areas.

President Chamisa has been visiting urban, peri-urban, growth points, farming communities, and deep rural arreas, interacting with citizens as the harmonized elections draw near.

Yesterday morning, President Chamisa successfully held a highly subscribed rally in rural Chikombedzi.

Then later in the day yesterday, police disrupted the CCC Chiredzi Central (town) rally, where President Chamisa was supposed to give a keynote address.

Chiredzi Police shows how they are scared of the Citizens Coalition For Change - and fired tear gas to disperse our supporters at Tshovani Stadium. They arrested eight CCC members.

Also, in Masvingo urban, armed police disrupted the CCC car rally that was meant to introduce candidates to citizens.

In addition, Chivi police have prohibited CCC from holding its rally.

CCC Posts Message In Mourning Prominent Church Leader Ezekiel Guti

By Citizens' Daily Bulletin
Correspondent

There has been mixed reaction among Zimbabweans on social media in mourning the death of Zimbabwean Cleric and Church leader Archbishop Ezekiel Guti.

His death was announced by the national executive chairman of the ministry Dr Joseph Guti in a message yesterday - in which he said that the Church is now in a period of mourning following the bereavement.

CCC spokesperson Adv Fadza Mahere said that the Citizens had noted the news of the death of the Zimbabwean cleric - and that the party was very sad at the death.

"As the Citizens Coalition for Change (CCC) we join in mourning the legendary man of God, Baba Ezekiel Guti. He influenced a generation and lived a life of impact, purpose and inspiration. He will be missed by the ZAOGA/Forward in Faith community, the Church and the nation," Adv Mahere said.

Archbishop Guti was a renowned religious leader, academic, and philanthropist who made a significant impact on the lives of many people in Zimbabwe and worldwide.

He founded the ZAOGA FIFMI, which has branches in over 100 countries, and established several educational and healthcare institutions, including the Zimbabwe Ezekiel Guti University.

On his profile on the Ezekiel TV Channel Dr Guti is recorded as running churches all over Africa, Asia, Australia, America and Europe, and had preached to several universities, bible schools, colleges, and on TV and radio programs.

He was the founder of seven bible schools in Zimbabwe and Mozambique among others, where he has trained over 5000 pastors from over 100 nations, including Asia, Europe, America, Australia and Africa.

He also founded the Forward in Faith orphanage centre, FIF children's ministry, FIF College and High School Ministry, Gracious Women's Fellowship international, and alongside with it, Husband Agape International Fellowship.

He was overseer of over 5000 pastors and evangelists worldwide. A great intercessor, a man of love, concern and compassion.

He authored over 60 books, which include other books about him entitled The African Apostle and The Remained Unspoken of the African Apostle.

Shock And Disbelief At Brutal Attack On CCC Lawyer Obey Shava

By Citizens Daily Bulletin
Correspondent

Advocate Thabani Mpofu has wished Change Champion Obey Shava a speedy recovery after he was viciously attacked by four men who broke his legs and left him battling for his life.

Advocate Mpofu said that the safety of Zimbabweans is paramount in the run-up to the August 23 elections.

“The safety of our citizens must be uppermost on the state’s agenda particularly during this crazy season. Wishing this champion a speedy recovery.”

“The upcoming August 23 elections will serve as a testament to the unwavering support and trust that the people have placed in the CCC under the leadership of Adv Nelson Chamisa, despite the plots and attempts to undermine their aspirations.”

“The strength of unity and the firm belief in a better future will ensure that the CCC party emerges victorious, prevailing over all obstacles and delivering on their promises to the people.”

“As the Citizens rally behind the injured champion, Obey Shava, our collective prayers and hopes are for his swift recovery and for justice to prevail in the face of such heinous acts.”

Shava has represented many local civil rights and opposition activists under the Zimbabwe Lawyers for Human Rights. Shava represented Joana Mamombe and Cecilia Chimbiri who were abducted, sexually assaulted and tortured by suspected state agents but were then arrested for reporting the incident to the Police. The ladies were acquitted by the High Court two days ago. Hands off lawyers!

Opposition and human rights or civil society activists, as well as journalists and lawyers - critics and dissenters - are often targets of Zanu PF, especially during elections. Zimbabwe, under authoritarian rule for 43 years now, will soon hold general elections on 23 August.

Elections in Zimbabwe are usually a sham and disputed since 2000. The country’s polls since 1980 have been largely characterised by intimidation, violence and murder.

Already, there have been serious incidents of violence in the run-up to the March 2022 by-elections.

Some opposition activists were killed and these include Mboneni Ncube who was stabbed to death with a spear by suspected Zanu PF brutes at a CCC rally in Kwekwe and Moreblessing Ali, a CCC party activist in Chitungwiza, killed by a Zanu PF-linked murderer last year. - With Change Radio And The News Hawks

24 People Killed In Boksburg After Inhaling Nitrate Oxide

By SABC And New York Times

Twenty-four people have been confirmed dead on Wednesday night at the Angelo settlement, outside Boksburg, following gas inhalation, in a suspected illegal mining activity.

Spokesperson for the Disaster and Emergency Management Services in Ekurhuleni, William Ntladi said they received a call just after 20h00 about what was initially thought to be a gas explosion.

Tladi says upon arrival they established that it was in fact a gas leakage from a gas cylinder from one of the yards within the informal settlement.

He says initial investigation indicate this could be linked to illegal mining activity in the area.

“When we arrived, we found out that there was no explosion, but gas leakage. As I am speaking to you, I can confirm that the 24 people have died, including women and children, due to nitrate gas inhalation. We suspect this could be linked to illegal mining in the area,” says Ntladi.

“Search and rescue operations are continuing on the scene as we search for more possible bodies,” he adds.

Tladi says no one has been hospitalised.

Disaster management said the deaths resulted from a leak in a cylinder of gas at the Angelo informal settlement, near the district of Boksburg in Gauteng Province.

The South African Police Service said two other people were taken to the hospital for treatment, according to The Associated Press.

Emergency services officials initially said that as many as 24 people had died, but later revised the death toll. The reason was not immediately clear. The cylinder of gas was found in the settlement, he said, adding that women and children were among the dead.

SABC identified the gas as nitrate oxide.

The type of gas found in the cylinder is often linked to illegal mining, the broadcaster said.

But Mr. Ntladi said it was not immediately clear that illegal mining was linked to the leak, according to Sky News. “Whether the illegal miners are among the deceased, that is not yet known,” he said.

The gas leak was later stopped and rescue teams were searching a 100-yard radius around the cylinder to check for more victims.

Panyaza Lesufi, the premier of Gauteng, visited the site of the leak and told reporters: “It’s a painful scene to go through and to watch. I’m very hopeful the teams will do everything in their power to ensure that this scene is appropriately guarded in a manner that will assist us to know the cause and provide answers to those who are affected.”
