CCC Promises Economic Stability And Prosperity

By Citizens' Daily Bulletin
Correspondent

The latest edition of the Citizens Coalition for Change's "Week in Review" program has highlighted the dire economic situation in Zimbabwe.

In just a week, the rate has risen from around 4,000 to over 6,000, causing significant financial losses for citizens across the country.

The economy has become unstable, making shopping senseless, and salaries cannot cover daily needs.

But there is hope for a brighter future.

The CCC is urging citizens to elect new leadership that prioritizes the people's needs.

The Change Champion in Chief Advocate Nelson Chamisa has been vocal about the need for new, ethical leadership that can deliver a thriving economy, providing each citizen with dignity and prosperity.

CCC promises to restore economic sanity, create a currency that works, a clear forex market that benefits all, and an environment for businesses and individuals to thrive.

Citizens will have a stable economy, with money that carries its value, and prices remaining constant.

The message of hope and change is proving popular, as the economy under the current regime has utterly failed. Every citizen must take the opportunity to vote for change and elect ethical leadership on 23 August 2023. The Citizens Coalition for Change and Champion Advocate Nelson Chamisa are the best choices for a brighter future.

week IN REVIEW

CCC: Week In Review

Hello everyone,

Welcome back to the Week in Review. When we spoke last week, the rate was around 4000, and by all estimates, today's rate is well over 6000.

That means in the last week your money has lost more power than Zesa.

If you check your pocket or bank balance at the moment, you may find yourself experiencing heart palpitations. Shopping doesn't make sense.

And even worse your salary doesn't meet the requirements of your daily life.

Whether you are a soldier, teacher, doctor, domestic worker, hustler, or other professional, the economy has stopped making sense.

We still have the trauma of 2008.

But there is hope. We have an opportunity to put a stop to this.

We have an opportunity to elect new leadership that puts citizens first.

As Champion in Chief Advocate Nelson Chamisa has said, the time is now to usher in new and ethical leadership that builds a thriving economy and allows each and every individual to live with dignity and pursue prosperity.

The citizens' coalition for change will restore economic sanity. We will have a currency that works. We will have a transparent forex market, where the billions that we earn from our exports are used to support our currency and not to benefit a few.

We will create an environment for businesses and individuals to thrive.

The money in your pocket will mean something. Your salary will make sense. You will have savings.

Prices will not change every hour. Things will be stable.

The economy has given the current regime a vote of no confidence.

Come 23 August 2023, it's our turn to choose change.

Put your confidence in the Citizens Coalition for Change. Choose better. Choose Chamisa.

Until next week, don't forget Champion Job Sikhala, Jacob Ngarivhume, and the Zinasu as you continue to inspire hope and a thirst for change.

Till Next Week

Cheers

Zanu-PF Supporters Reject Command Voting

By Citizens' Daily Bulletin
Correspondent

A group of alleged Zanu PF supporters in Mbare have vowed not to be forced to vote for candidates whom they believe cannot represent their concerns well at the presidential, parliamentary, and council levels.

An audio, circulating on social networks, captured a purported party member stating that they had been instructed by Maisiri, a party chairman in the area, to reveal the candidates for whom they would vote in the upcoming presidential, parliamentary, and council elections.

The female member argued that Maisiri's directive was unconstitutional and must be resisted in the strongest terms.

She urged her fellow members to share the audio widely and expose Zanu PF's shenanigans in Mbare.

"We attended a party meeting this afternoon where Chairman Maisiri said that during the upcoming election, every member should take pictures of their ballot papers to show for whom they voted and present to their chairman," she added.

"Is that legal?" she asked. "Please share this audio on all your platforms because it's illegal, and we won't submit to such nonsense. We can't continue to be slaves to this regime and its illegal behavior. Please spread the word, and let's resist this madness."

According to the constitution of Zimbabwe, every Zimbabwean citizen has the right to free, fair and regular elections. They can make political choices freely, form, join, and participate in the activities of a political party or organization of their choice. They can also campaign freely and peacefully for a political party or cause.

Voters must have the freedom to vote for candidates and political parties of their own choice. They must not be intimidated into voting for candidates who do not represent their aspirations and interests.

Maisiri's behavior violates both the national constitution and electoral laws. ZEC should take a stern action against such notorious behavior by members of Zanu PF.

Great Hope Funeral Set To Conduct Zimbabwe Burials: Saved-To-Serve

Senior Zanu-PF Leader Refers To Supporters As 'Dunderheads'

By Citizens' Daily
Correspondent

A senior Zanu PF leader has issued a reprehensible statement saying that rural citizens who purportedly support his party are ignorant and uninformed.

A recent statement by Obert Mpofu has sparked outrage, as he referred to rural citizens who purportedly support his party as ignorant and uninformed.

Mpofu claimed that even if the local currency were to continue its downward spiral, as it currently is, these supporters would still vote for ZANU-PF due to their supposed lack of awareness of economic realities.

Upon tweeting this statement, Mpofu received severe backlash from citizens and other politicians who pointed out the harmful nature of his words.

One tweeter replied, "The same $ ZWL 10 000.00 loaf of bread in towns remains the same even in the rural areas," highlighting the severity of the economic crisis facing Zimbabwe beyond just urban areas.

Former cabinet minister Dr. Walter Mzembe directly questioned Mpofu's reasoning, stating, "Cde Mpofu are you inferring that our Rural people are 'Dunderheads'? What currency do these 'detached' Rural people use? Or do they live in some parallel universe where this failed economy spares them?"

This statement comes at a time when a significant devaluation of the local currency has occurred, due to the unpredictability of ZANU-PF's economic policies.

Prices of essentials continue to rise daily, and the discontent of citizens is increasingly being directed towards Mpofu and his party.

Some critics have even accused top Zanu PF officials of involving themselves in illegal gold deals, which further affects the country's economic growth while impoverishing its citizens.

On August 23, 2023, Zimbabweans will have the opportunity to elect a new leader who will prioritize the needs of citizens over corrupt dealings, poor and unpredictable policies.

The Citizens Coalition for Change, led by Advocate Nelson Chamisa, has promised to put citizens' needs first and implement policies that align with their aspirations.

The party hopes to transform the lives of Zimbabweans through five key pillars: restoration, reconstruction, reconciliation, modernization, and transformation.

The people of Zimbabwe deserve leaders who care about their welfare, respect them, and work towards building a better future for all.
