Harare City Council Launches SMEs Policy, Pledges 150 000 Trading Stalls

By Tongai Mwenje

The Harare City Council has launched a policy aimed at developing and supporting Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) in an effort to boost sustainable economic growth and transform the SMEs sector into sustainable and modern small to medium enterprises that will eventually be developed into fully-fledged sustainable businesses.

This aligns with the Citizens Coalition for Change leader, Advocate Nelson Chamisa's 2023 agenda wherein he presented five core pillars that will serve to build the country: modernization, transformation, reconstruction, restoration, and reconciliation.

The Harare City Council has adopted President Chamisa's vision ahead of the upcoming elections.

The Policy launched will apply to all forms of SMEs businesses operating within Harare, including those trading at designated trading or vending sites, all shopping centres, shopping malls, stalls owned by the Council or private operators, and any public institution that includes churches, hospitals, stadia, recreations facilities, among others.

The Policy seeks to guide the Harare City Council on the management and transformation of the SMEs sector and create enterprises that will contribute to sustainable economic growth while promoting sustainable employment.

The council will determine tariffs payable as monthly rental fees, registration fees, trading fees, and other relevant fees by SMEs traders. Late or non-payment of fees will result in a fine.

Speaking at the launch, the SMEs Chairperson, Councilor Denford Ngadzire, noted that the policy is aimed at bringing order and sanity to the SMEs sector by formalizing SMEs business operations and providing policy directives that regulate the sector to foster economic participation.

Ngadzire further stated that the City of Harare is targeting providing stalls and markets to over 150 000 people in Harare by 2024, adding that all those operating illegally will be regularized with trading spaces provided for them.

"We are targeting to provide stalls and markets to over 150000 people in Harare by the end of 2024.

"All those operating illegally will be regularized and trading spaces provided for them."

During the official launch, the Guest of Honour, His Worship, Councilor Jacob Mafume pledged the City of Harare's full support of SMEs, which are widely considered essential to the city's economy, offering employment opportunities, taxes, and economic growth.

He challenged the central government, provincial office, Ministry of SMEs, and financial institutions to support the sector and create conducive environments for SMEs to operate and contribute to the city's sustainable economic growth and development.

"I want to challenge the central government through Provincial Office, Ministry of SMEs and the financial institutions to fully support this sector and work with us Local Authorities, in creating the conducive environment for SMEs to thrive and continue to contribute to the economic growth and development," he said.

Mafume assured stakeholders of the city's commitment to create a favorable environment for SMEs' sustainable development and growth.

The Policy is expected to promote economic diversification, address political and social myths that have affected the growth and transformation of the sector, and encourage the development of a sustainable and competitive SME community.

Bogus CCC Candidates Exposed

By Citizens' Daily Bulletin
Correspondent

At least two candidates have been exposed as bogus after the Citizens Coalition For Change (CCC) published a list of 41 fraudulent candidates on Monday.

The party had given the candidates just a 24-hour ultimatum to withdraw from running in the upcoming elections.

According to the CCC, these candidates were fraudulently entered into the election process and are neither members nor candidates of the party. They include 20 aspiring Members of Parliament and 21 aspiring councilors.

It has emerged that at least two of these candidates are fraudulent. One is Nyas-hadzashé Enock Chitoro, the double candidate for Chitungwiza North, who is not a member of the CCC.

He reportedly registered himself as a CCC member to mislead voters who support the party, despite being a ZANU-PF member. Chitoro attempted to cover his tracks by deleting his pro-ZANU-PF Twitter account on 21 June which was the nomination date.

The other candidate is Albert Mhlanga, who filed fraudulent nomination papers for Pumula. It has been confirmed that he is an MDC-A party member and not a member of the CCC.

In the previous Pumula by-election, Mahlangu, the legitimate CCC candidate, contested and won against Mhlanga.

Party spokesperson Advocate Fadzayi Mahere issued a warning statement on Monday, revealing that criminal complaints were filed against all 41 fraudulent candidates under RRb No 5585161, ZRP Kopje, and noted an electoral appeal to the Electoral Court under EC3/2023.

"...We have received no response from ZEC. Consequently, we have noted an electoral appeal to the Electoral Court under EC3/2023 against the decision of the Nomination Court to accept the nomination forms of fraudulent double candidates whose forms carried forged signatures."

"In addition, we have filed criminal complaints against all of the fraudulent candidates under RRb No 5585161, ZRP Kopje. For the avoidance of doubt, the (listed) candidates are not candidates for the CCC."

Mahere also pointed out that these fraudulent candidates must withdraw their candidature within 24 hours, or the CCC will take both criminal and civil action against them.

"Should the fraudulent candidates withdraw their candidature within 24 hours the CCC will not persist with both the civil and criminal proceedings against them," she warned.

The CCC has been accused of fielding double candidates in various council and parliamentary seats across the country.

However, the CCC's election and legal teams conducted an investigation into the matter and discovered a state-driven sting operation that falsified the CCC logo and signatures.

The sting operation affected 15 constituencies in Harare, three in Bulawayo, one (1) in Kariba, three (3) in Marondera, three (3) Harare wards, nine (9) Bulawayo wards and six (6) wards in Nkayi.

Addressing the media on Thursday evening, the CCC clarified that none of their authorized signatories filed any double candidates.

The party managed to nominate candidates for all 210 constituencies, achieving a 100% success rate compared to 2018, where the opposition fielded only 207 candidates.

"The reasons behind the sting operation are clear - it was an attempt by ZANU to disrupt the CCC's election processes and portray us as being weak.

"ZANU understands that they are unpopular and that their defeat in the upcoming election is imminent. Thus, they resorted to such criminal activities to tip the election in their favor," said CCC Spokesperson Fadzayi Mahere.

Investigations into the sting operation revealed a pattern of forgeries of the CCC's logo and signatures, making it seem that the party is disorganized and in disarray. The perpetrators of this operation are allegedly working with the ruling ZANU party.

Citizens Answer President Chamisa's Call To Adopt And Support Polling Stations

By Citizens' Daily Bulletin
Correspondent

In a recent development, Zimbabweans have responded positively to President Nelson Chamisa's call to support the Citizens Coalition for Change (CCC) in their efforts to bring about change in the country.

During a CCC rally in South Africa on Saturday, President Chamisa encouraged Zimbabweans in the diaspora to not only support but adopt and support a polling station in their respective home areas.

An interesting trend has emerged, with locals also taking up the responsibility of adopting and supporting wards in their area or home.

Advocate Frank Chirairo who voluntarily withdrew his candidature recently to eliminate double candidacy for his party, CCC, has pledged to support Masvingo West ward 2 and Masvingo Urban ward 1.

Chirairo said that he will be providing food and other necessities for the 32 election agents in these wards during the upcoming elections. He emphasized that he adopted these two wards as per the instruction of President Chamisa.

He said, "CCC must win this year's harmonized elections. I am ready to play my part."

The initiative to adopt and support a polling station also includes funding, training, and deployment of agents.

Interested citizens can participate through the citizensagents.org link.

It is worth noting that Advocate Chirairo was one of the aspiring council candidates in Masvingo West ward 2.

However, the party selected Ms. Shantel Chiwara to represent it in ward 2.

This initiative by the citizens, indicates a positive shift and commitment towards a new Great Zimbabwe and a brighter future for the country. As he steps into politics under the banner of the CCC in Gutu Central, Takaona is expected to bring the same level of leadership to his new role and be a strong advocate for press freedom and human rights.

Gutu Central voters can expect a dynamic leader who is committed to the cause of transformational change, and who has shown, through his illustrious career, that he is more than able to deliver.

CCC MP Warns Against Political Violence

By Citizens' Daily Bulletin
Correspondent

Citizens Coalition for Change
Member of Parliament for Hwange Central, Daniel Molokele, has issued a stern
warning to any perpetrators
of violence.

He emphasized that no politician is worth killing or dying
for. Molokele issued this statement in remembrance of 27 June 2008, a dark day in Zimbabwe's political history.

On this day, hundreds of innocent opposition members
were either killed, maimed,
violently attacked, tortured,
injured, or forcibly displaced
by ZANU-PF thugs.

27 June 2008 marked the day set for the presidential runoff election between the late Morgan Tsvangirai and Robert Mugabe.

However, a lot of state-sponsored violence was perpetrated against Tsvangirai's supporters, leading to hundreds of deaths. In the end, Tsvangi-rai was left with no choice but to withdraw from the race.

Reflecting on these sad events, Molokele said, "I was still based in Geneva at that time, as the International Coordinator for the Global Zimbabwe Forum (GZF). In response, I joined hands with fellow Zimbabweans who were based in Geneva and friends of Zimbabwe, and organized a public protest against the political atrocities back home in our beloved motherland."

As the national polls approach, Molokele urged Zimbabwean citizens to reject
all forms of politically motivated violence. He further encourages peaceful political discourse, especially during elections.

He added, "As Zimbabweans,
we must shun all forms of politically motivated violence and promote peaceful political discourse, especially when it comes to elections.

"Let us all pray and hope that our next harmonized elections due on 23rd August 2023 will be peaceful and violence-free."
